They Storm Ashore on East Coast of Central Sumatra

SINGAPORE (AP) — Indonesian Central government troops have stormed ashore today at Bengkalis on the east coast of Central Sumatra, revolutionary sources said.

The sources said rebel troops of Lt. Col. Achmad Hussein clashed with the invaders but retreated into surrounding jungle to begin guerrilla activities.

John Cross To Succeed Mack in FCC

Has Been Working In Communications Field 22 Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today nominated Democrat John S. Cross to be a member of the Federal Communications Commission. He succeeds Richard A. Mack, who resigned under fire.

Cross, 53, now is assistant chief of the State Department's telecommunications division. He has been in the communications field for about 22 years, the White House said.

Mack, also a Democrat, resigned a week ago today while under sharp criticism from members of a House investigating subcommittee, and others.

In accepting the resignation, the President called the step wise and told Mack he had impaired his usefulness.

The subcommittee took testimony that Mack accepted loans from a Miami lawyer interested in a case pending before the FCC. Mack denied any wrongdoing.

The nomination of Cross, a legal resident of Arkansas, is subject to confirmation by the Senate. A native of Birmingham, Ala., Cross has worked for the State Department since 1946.

He was graduated in 1923 from the Alabama Polytechnic Institute with a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering.

In 1941 Cross served as a member of the Defense Communications Board.

In 1936-41 he was a member of the federal government's interdepartment Radio Advisory Commission.

Will Offer Bill on Control Of Billboards

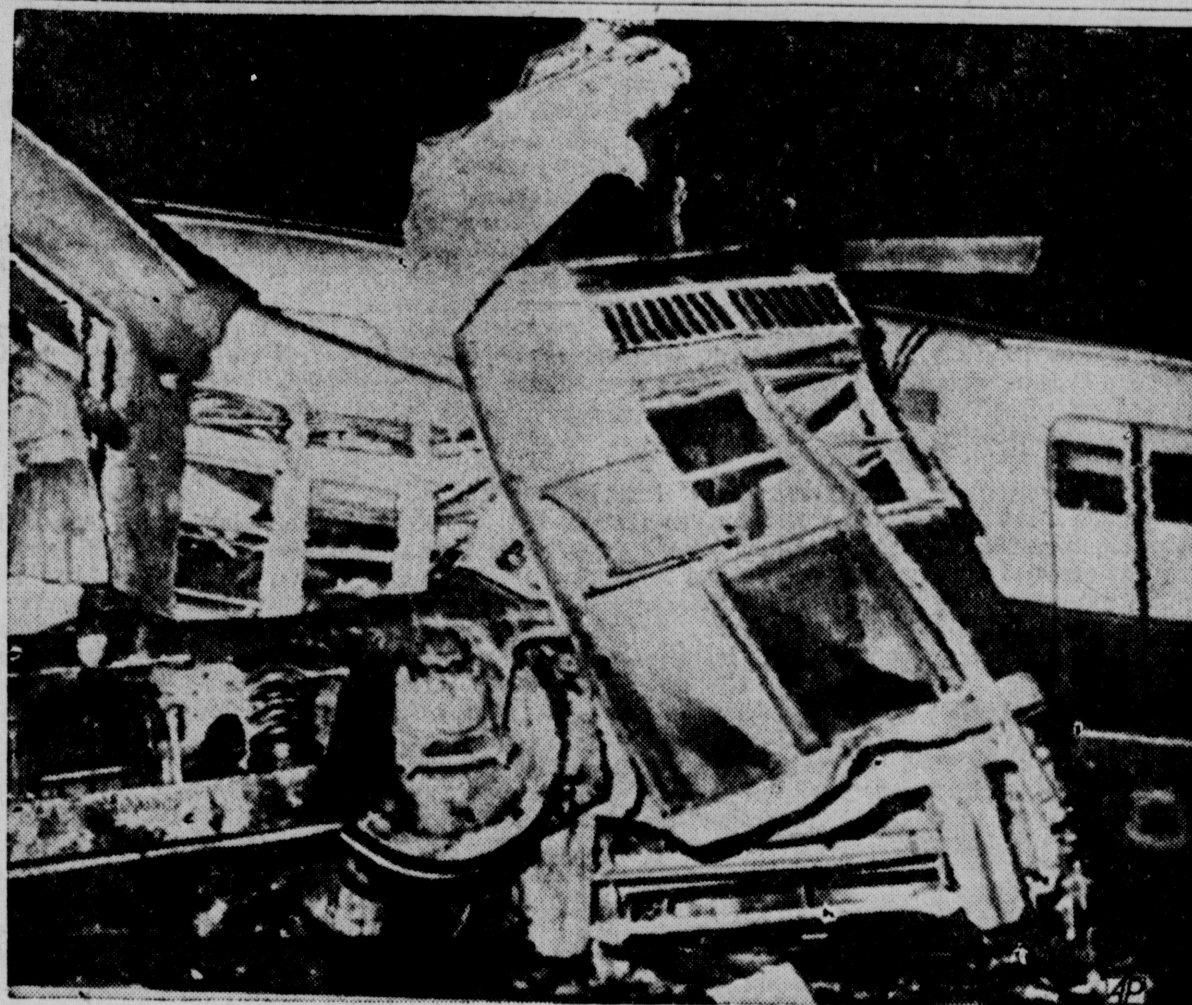

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Neuberger (D-Ore) said today he will offer a billboard control amendment this week to legislation seeking to speed up the nation's road-building program.

The regulation would apply only to the 41,000-mile superhighway network—the interstate system—now under construction to link up all parts of the country.

The Senate Public Roads subcommittee, on which Neuberger serves, holds a further public hearing today on the billboard question.

Neuberger's proposal would offer a 3/4 of 1 per cent bonus to states which agree to control billboards along the interstate system. This would be added on to the 90 per cent of the cost of the construction which the federal government now pays.

The proposal was beaten 7-6 in the committee last year.

In Hearing on Resolution

Senator Johnson Wants Faster Federal Public Works Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) testified today for an accelerated federal public works program and declared, "what we want is action—not credit, not an issue."

"We want to get rid of the issue by putting people on jobs," the Senate Democratic leader said.

Johnson was the first witness at a public works committee hearing on a resolution he and 65 other senators are sponsoring to put the Senate on record as favoring a speedup of civil public works projects.

The Texan said the resolution covered about four billion dollars already appropriated for such projects as dams, river and harbor improvements, and public buildings.

Johnson noted that President Eisenhower on Saturday "announced some steps to pump new vigor into the economy."

"I believe most of us would endorse those steps—insofar as they have been explained up to this point," he said. "In return, I believe we should let him know that we endorse the fullest practicable use of his resources to battle unemployment."

Eisenhower announced that some already appropriated public works funds would be released. He also called for extension of the period during which workers are eligible for unemployment insurance benefits.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said a special message dealing with extension of unemployment insurance benefits probably will go to Congress about midweek.

Hagerty replied "I just don't know" when asked whether that program will require action by state legislatures, in addition to approval by Congress.

He added that no dates have been fixed for sending other phases of the Eisenhower anti-recession program to Congress.

Johnson and the other senators have introduced a second resolution to be considered by the Armed Services Committee. It covers about three billion dollars already voted for military construction projects.

The Democratic leader told the Public Works Committee "the question before us involves a high degree of urgency."

"There are men and women out of work—at least five million of them. Their sources of income are vanishing rapidly," he said.

Sen. Martin (R-Pa), senior Republican on the committee, asked if Johnson would favor deficit financing or higher taxes to finance pump-priming efforts.

The Texan answered that he believed that was a matter primarily to be studied by the Finance Committee on which Martin also is the ranking GOP member.

But, Johnson added, "if it is necessary to have deficit financing to accelerate these projects, my answer would be yes."

Johnson said he did not contend that the two resolutions introduced in the Senate last Thursday would be the complete answer to the economic slump.

North Korea Will Return Downed Pilot

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP)—North Korea today agreed to return a U.S. Air Force pilot shot down over the demilitarized zone last Thursday by Communist gunfire.

No date for the release was given. The Communist announcement came at a meeting of the Military Armistice Commission at which the U.N. Command warned it would shoot down any Red planes deliberately crossing the truce line.

Capt. Leon Pfeiffer of Kenosha, Wis., who parachuted from the stricken Sabre Jet into Communist territory, was being given "humanitarian treatment," the Communist delegates said. There was no indication whether he was wounded.

The U.N. delegate, Gen. Olaf Kyster, admitted that Pfeiffer's and other American planes had violated the demilitarized zone but told the Reds it was because of "mistakes and carelessness on the part of the pilots."

Kyster protested the shooting was an "unnecessary armed attack" and warned that Communist aircraft violating U.N. territory also would be fired upon "if these violations are not due to navigational error."

Kyster emphasized at a press conference later that this was not a new policy.

The North Korean delegate charged U.N. forces had violated the demilitarized zone 588 times since the 1953 armistice to spy on Communist territory.

The Korean Maj. Gen. Kang Sang Ho, charged that the latest U.N. violations were "along with a series of provocative acts by your side . . . in converting South Korea into a United States atomic war base."

The Communist delegate said Pfeiffer's Sabre Jet was shot down because the pilot disregarded Communist warning fire by continuing to "perpetrate hostile acts at low altitude."

Bright Side

One good thing about snow is that it's handy for filling up those awkward pauses in conversation, especially if it's wet and packs well.

Cloudy with snow ending tonight. Decreasing cloudiness with little change in temperature Tuesday; low tonight in upper 20s; high Tuesday in mid-30s.

The temperature at 7 a.m. was 29, which was the low for Sunday night, and at 1 p.m. it was 31. Snowfall one inch with .03 moisture content.

The temperature one year ago today, high 68, low 34; two years ago, high 79, low 54; and three years ago, high 69, low 40.

Stage at Lake of the Ozarks 56.9 rise .9.

Garment Workers Head for Settlement

NEW YORK (AP) — Striking garment workers and dress manufacturers have reached agreement on money issues and appear headed for a full settlement today or tomorrow.

The ticklish problem of contract enforcement — the other major issue in the six-day-old strike — is still to be resolved.

An employer spokesman said last night both sides agreed on an 11 1/2 per cent package increase.

The spokesman said it includes an 11 per cent boost in base pay and a payroll deduction for severance pay of one half of 1 per cent.

Agreement also was reached on overtime for piece workers — 81 per cent of the workers are employed on this basis — after 35 hours.

No Strike Is Called In Havana

Batista Orders Out Troops, Policemen To Crush Outbreaks

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—With armed government forces on guard, Cuba's industry and commerce operated normally today despite rumblings rebel leader Field Castro might call a general strike.

Some rebel informants said Castro may wait until the end of the month to call the strike—which he says is his ultimate weapon to topple the regime of President Fulgencio Batista. There were no signs at this time that a general walkout was imminent.

The rebel informants said there is considerable work yet to be done in sabotaging business, industrial and transport enterprises to assure a firm groundwork for a successful strike.

Batista ordered 7,700 policemen and 22,000 troops to take whatever steps necessary to break a strike and crush any outbreaks on this sixth anniversary of his last military coup.

Batista canceled all celebrations except for a radio speech from a nearby military garrison, where he is protected by thousands of troops.

Castro has threatened a general strike at any moment. The rebel mountain guerrillas are reported running short of arms, and Castro has declared that a general strike would be his last blow — and the one sure to topple Batista.

Leaders of 60,000 high school and university students, already on strike against the arrest of fellow students, announced they would support any walkout to oust Batista.

But the powerful Cuban Confederation of Labor said its 1,200,000 workers would stay on the job. Batista recently decreed wage boosts for them.

Agrees to First Step Of Compromise Plan

TUNIS (AP) — President Habib Bourguiba is reported to have agreed to the first step of a compromise plan that would allow French forces to remain in control of the big naval base at Bizerte.

The Tunisian President demanded that all French forces get out of his country after the French bombing of Sakiet Sidi Youssef last month.

But under the plan reportedly worked out by U.S. conciliator Robert Murphy, the French would pull their forces back to Bizerte and leave neutrals guarding French airports to insure that they would not be used by Algerian rebels.

The Communist delegate said Pfeiffer's Sabre Jet was shot down because the pilot disregarded Communist warning fire by continuing to "perpetrate hostile acts at low altitude."

Possible Anti-Red Linkup

MANILA (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles arrived today for the annual SEATO foreign ministers' meeting, which is expected to focus on a possible linkup with similar anti-Communist alliances in the West and Middle East.

In contrast to other ministers here for the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization parley, Dulles declined to comment on the latest Soviet proposals for the Far East situation.

Asked whether he planned to confer with his colleagues on the Soviet Union's latest call for a summit conference, Dulles said, "I came here to discuss the problem of SEATO. I expect that will occupy us fully."

Dulles told newsmen he had not seen official reports on the Soviet demand for an atomic-free zone in Asia and an Asian collective

Money Bills Ready

Session Now In Sixth Week

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Missouri legislators headed into the sixth week of their special session today with less than four weeks working time left.

The 60-day session must end by April 3. If major appropriation measures for the fiscal year starting July 1 are still dangling at adjournment time, Gov. James T. Blair would be forced to call a second special session at once.

As the lawmakers move into the sixth week, most of the major money bills are out of the House Appropriations Committee, ready to be boosted along to the Senate. Sen. John W. Noble (D) of Kennett, Senate Appropriations chairman, scheduled a series of closed door sessions this week so his committee could start acting on the bills as they were passed by the House. That phase of the work is expected to require most of this week.

A number of the major bills recommended by the governor, meanwhile, are ready to be passed by the Senate and shunted over to the House, where some are expected to run into controversies. The governor has indicated he is ready to appear before House committees in defense of his key measures if necessary.

One bill already has hit shoals in the House—measure to give the Kansas City Police Department up to a fourth of the city's general revenue instead of a sixth, raise police salaries and increase the size of the police force.

A hot dispute arose when it was first called up last week but it had to be shelved temporarily to clear the way for appropriation bills.

Another bill, to take the present one-half of one per cent ceiling off the St. Louis earnings tax, also has bumped into opposition in the Senate. The measure is still locked in the Ways and Means Committee but action of some sort is expected this week.

A Surprise Storm

Forecasts Heavy Snowfall For Most of State Monday

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A heavy snow warning was issued today for most of Missouri.

The Weather Bureau said the snow would overspread most of the state this afternoon, becoming heavy in the southwest and south-central portions this afternoon and evening and over most of the south portion tonight with accumulations of four inches or more in the heavy snow area.

Light snow was falling over the southwestern and west-central sections of the state this morning. A surprise storm dumped nine inches of snow on St. Louis and up to four inches on Kansas City Saturday night and Sunday morning.

Reason for the wintry weather is an extensive high pressure area in northern Canada which is feeding cold air into this area. This plus a low pressure area in Texas is causing rain and snow.

The northern part of Missouri is expected to be a little colder tonight. The low will be in the upper 20s northwest to the lower 30s extreme southeast. Tuesday's highs will be generally in the 30s, streams out of their banks. The south Grand River overflowed south of Clinton, closing Missouri Highway 13. The water covered the pavement up to eight inches for a distance of three quarters of a mile.

Police Guard Rome University in Strike

ROME (AP)—Five hundred police occupied Rome University buildings before dawn today to prevent protest riots by students who have been striking for more than a month.

Students all over Italy have been striking against a new Ministry of Education rule requiring graduates to take state examinations to qualify for the law, engineering, medicine and such professions. In the past they needed only a school degree. This was the day for the state tests in Rome. A spokesman said police learned that students were planning a huge protest demonstration. Only six students out of some 300 eligible appeared to take the exam.

City reached 22.9 feet this morning, nearly seven feet above bankful.

Temperatures through next Saturday are expected to average three to five degrees below normal. More rain or snow is expected about Friday or Saturday.

UAW Pushes Pressure In Kohler Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate rackets probes called 40 witnesses today to tell about an economic boycott pushed by the United Auto Workers as part of their strike against the Kohler Co.

First they planned further questioning of Emil Mazey, UAW secretary-treasurer.

The UAW called the strike against the Wisconsin bathroom fixtures company in April 1954. The plant at Kohler, Wis., was closed for a time, but later was reopened with nonstrikers and new employees.

So far the hearings have centered largely on acts of violence and vandalism in the strike. Each side has blamed the other.

During the weekend Walter Reuther, UAW president, released a letter to Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz) urging "sanity" in the investigation of the strike so that the hearings do not "continue to deteriorate into a political brawl and name-calling contest."

"A continuation of this emotionally explosive atmosphere in these hearings can only create further bitterness between the Kohler Co. and its striking employees, and make a sane, sensible and just settlement of this dispute more difficult," Reuther wrote.

No comment was available immediately from Goldwater. He and Reuther, long-time foes, have hurled charges of "liar" and "coward" at each other.

In his letter to the senator, Reuther said the UAW "made every possible effort to minimize violence" in the Kohler strike. But he conceded that some members violated that policy in the heat of emotion and under what he called the company's provocation.

Mamie Stays Indoors To Escape Snowstorm

DENVER (AP) — Like nearly everyone else in town, Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower stayed indoors today to escape a blustery snow storm.

The First Lady flew into her home city yesterday aboard the President's plane Columbine III a few hours after the storm struck.

"Oh, you shouldn't have come out in this terrible weather," she told the small group of well-wishers at Lowry Air Force Base.

Mrs. Eisenhower and her sister Mrs. Gordon Moore came here from an Arizona vacation to visit briefly with their mother Mrs. John S. Doud, 79.

They had spent the past two weeks at a desert resort near Phoenix.

Lowry officers said Mrs. Eisenhower may not start back to Washington until tomorrow.

Mrs. Eisenhower spent less than five minutes at the air base before being driven over snow-slick streets to her mother's residence. She and her sister stayed overnight at a downtown hotel.

Accidents
Eugene Semkin, 612 East Ninth, reported to police that while his 1937 Chevrolet car was parked on Bing's parking lot at the store on Broadway and Emmett, someone ran into the right front door, damaging it. Police are making a check. The accident occurred Sunday evening and was reported at 7:20 p.m.

The State Highway Patrol received a call of a wreck on North Highway 65 near the Burkholder farm at 12:48 a. m. Sunday. On arrival, it was found the car had already been pulled out of the ditch and had gone on its way.

It appeared as if the driver lost control of the car going down a hill and around a curve and slid into the ditch.

No injuries were reported in an accident at Broadway and Grand about 10:30 p.m. Saturday, but damage resulted to the vehicles.

Involved was a 1954 Ford tudor sedan driven north on Grand by Mrs. W. L. Alexander, 47, Route 4, Sedalia, and a 1953 Pontiac tudor sedan driven west on Broadway by Milton R. McLain, 52, of 2307 Highland.

The front end of the Alexander car was damaged and the left side of the Pontiac damaged.

Both cars were driven away under their own power.

A hit-and-run accident was reported in the 200 block on East Second where a 1957 Ford sedan car owned by James Elwood Hieronymus, Route 5, Sedalia, was parked. The left side, left front and the left back door on the car was damaged.

The accident occurred about 10:32 p.m. Saturday.

One person was injured, but not seriously, in an accident at 13th and Massachusetts, about 11:05 a.m. Sunday.

Mrs. Lizzie Hammond, 68, of 909 East 11th, suffered a back injury and was shaken up. She was taken to Woodland Hospital in the Gillespie ambulance, where she was given medical attention.

According to the police report, Roll Hammond, 78, of 909 East 11th, driving a 1938 Chevrolet, was headed west on 13th, stopped for the railroad crossing. A 1956 Buick sedan, was also being driven west on 13th by George H. Ditzfeld, 503 East 13th, failed to stop and hit the rear end of the coupe.

The rear end of the coupe and the front end of the Buick were damaged.

Damage resulted to two automobiles which were in collision at Broadway and Missouri about 7:05 p.m. Sunday. No injuries were reported.

Involved was a 1932 Chevrolet sedan driven by Wilbert Garrison, Marshall, who was driving east on Broadway and starting to make a left turn on to Missouri, and a 1953 Oldsmobile sedan driven east on Broadway by Raymond C. Stogcklein, Route 1, Pilot Grove.

Some damage resulted to the old covered bridge over Flat Creek about 5:30 p.m. Sunday, and a car had damages estimated at $200 in the accident.

Jerry Brand, 16, Route 5, Sedalia, driving a 1953 Studebaker coach owned by Robert Holder, Route 5, Sedalia, was driving north on the water works road. As he came onto the bridge, he applied his brakes. The boards on the bridge floor being slick, the car skidded to the left and hit the west side, breaking a 3 by 12 foot board on the side. The car swerved back to the east, but the youth succeeded in controlling it and did not hit the east side.

As the car came out of the bridge on the north end, it appeared headed for a tree. Brand turned the wheels to the right and came to a stop at the edge of the embankment.

Trooper Pete Stohr, of the State Highway Patrol, made the investigation.

Two cars were in collision at Fourth and Engineer at 10:27 a.m. Monday morning. No injuries were reported.

Involved was a 1958 Plymouth station wagon which was parked and headed east on Fourth, and a 1950 GMC pickup truck driven east by Bob Woolery, 1526 East Fourth.

The left front and side of the station wagon was damaged and the right side of the truck damaged.

Police Reports
Lawrence O. Gore, 720 South Massachusetts, reported to police two rear view mirrors were broken and his radio antenna ripped off of his car Friday night.

A back door to the Yunker and Lierman Drug Store on South Ohio was found open by police at 10:25 p.m. Harold Yunker was notified and locked the door.

discovered by the police checking business firms at 5:20 a.m. The panel of a rear door had been kicked out through which entrance was gained.

A check revealed five cases of bourbon Supreme and one case of Kentucky bonded, all one-half pint bottles, and 11 fifths of whiskey, and $55 in cash stolen.

Two Sedalia youths were reported as missing from their homes since 5 o'clock Friday evening by their parents. The boys are Guy Smith, 16 years old, of 407 North Grand, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy J. Smith, and Curtis Welch, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Welch, 912 South Ohio.

The boys were reported in the car of the father of Smith, a 1949 black Chevrolet sedan.

The Smith boy was described as having blonde hair, light brown eyes, five feet eight inches tall and about 140 pounds, wearing a Smith-Cotton High School black and gold jacket, blue jeans, The Welch boy was described as five feet five inches tall, curly hair, dark brown eyes, dark complexion, weighing about 130 pounds, wearing a reddish tan leather zipper jacket, blue jeans and eight-inch boots.

Dr. Kenneth L. Holdren, 1613 West 11th, reported to police that as he was enroute back to Sedalia from making a call southeast of Sedalia, his car struck a black cow on the Abell Road. He reported several other cows were along the roadway.

Dr. Holdren reported the right front fender damaged on the car. He reported the cow was not killed, as it got up and moved off the road.

The State Patrol was notified and made an investigation.

A side door to the Zero Locker, Main and Ohio, found open by the police at 9:30 p.m. Saturday, E. Glenn Lewis was notified and locked the door.

Sgt. Herman L. Neal, White-man AFB, reported to the police the loss of his brown leather billfold, containing identification papers and cards, but no money, someplace downtown Saturday.

Front door to the Zephyr Manufacturing Co., Second and Montau, was found open at 11:45 p.m. Sunday. The manager was notified and locked the door.

Police were summoned to 2301 First Street Terrace at 10:10 a.m. Sunday by a telephone operator who received a call through the telephone company. On arrival the officers found Kenneth Hall with his right hand caught in an overhead garage door. The officers freed Hall. He suffered a severe cut on the right hand.

Riley Kidwell, 1515 South Prospect, reported to the police two chrome hub caps stolen from his car Sunday night while his car was parked in front of his home.

Science Shrinks Piles
New Way Without Surgery
Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain, Stops Itching as it Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all — results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*) — discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H.*

J. C. Henrys Celebrate Wedding Day

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Henry celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on Sunday, March 2, with open house at their home near Fortuna, on Sunday afternoon from 2 to 5 p.m.

Joel Henry and Miss Mary Hutchison of near Latham, Mo. were married March 4, 1908, at the Court House in California, Mo. by Judge Bybee. They were accompanied by a sister of the bride, Miss Lula Hutchison and Roland Boggs who were later married.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry have resided in Monticau and Morgan County all of their lives.

They are the parents of six children and they are Mrs. Ray F. Pearl, Kansas City, Erwin Henry, Wichita, Kan., Melvin Henry, Tip-ton, Mrs. Earl Hickman of near Clarksburg, Mrs. Albert Haldiman, California, and Mrs. Carl Elmo Vogt, Versailles. All the children were present for the occasion except Erwin who could not attend.

A granddaughter, Miss Evelyn Rose Henry, registered the guests. Misses Wilma Henry and Sue Ann Haldiman, granddaughter were in charge of the gifts.

The serving table was covered with a lace cloth with three tier-wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom, white wedding bells and lighted tapers adorned the table. Mrs. Albert Haldiman served the cake, mints and nuts, with Mrs. Earl Hickman serving the punch from a crystal punch bowl. Mrs. Carl Elmo Vogt, Mrs. Melvin Henry, Mrs. Walt Friedly and Mrs. A. P. Foley assisted generally.

Sets Unique Record In Christening

BRUNSWICK, Maine (AP) — Dexter Alden Gagne is too young to know it, but he set up quite a record when christened in St. John's Church.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Doue A. Gagne, he is the 10th child in his family to have the initials D.A.G.

He is the 32nd grandchild to be carried to the sacristy by his grandmother, Mrs. Arthur J. Gagne, who has missed the baptism of only one of her grandchildren.

He is the 41st infant to wear the traditional christening garments that have been in the family for 47 years.

'Churchnik' Missile Blasts Off Sunday

BALTIMORE (AP)—After a countdown of the Ten Commandments, a "rocket" blasted off on a string of rubber bands to the ceiling of Baltimore's St. Mary's Episcopal Church yesterday.

All eyes were solemn.

As the "Churchnik" began to smoke at takeoff because of dry ice dropped into water, the Rev. George F. Packard told his flock: "Confirmation launches us into the flight of life and the fuel is Holy Communion."

The eight-foot, silver-colored cardboard rocket had three orange fins. It bore an orange cross and the word "soul."

Neighbors Give Blood For Heart Operation

ONSTED, MICH. (AP) — Blood offered by 24 neighbors may course through the body of Susan Kurtz for five hours tomorrow while the 11-year-old girl undergoes a heart operation.

The 24 offered their blood within a few hours after it became known that Susan must undergo the operation in a Cleveland hospital.

Starting today, the neighbors in this southern Michigan village are to go by car caravan to Cleveland to give their aid.

Lloyd Kurtz, the girl's father, said surgeons told him Susan would not live six months unless she was operated on and that the odds were 5-1 against its being successful.

The operation, to be performed by Dr. Frederick S. Cross, a Cleveland heart specialist, calls for use of a mechanical heart and lung to take over for Susan's own heart during the five hours that surgeons estimate the operation will take. Blood from donors will pass through the mechanical heart.

The Impact Of FDR

Many Americans will be amazed to realize that a generation has passed since Franklin D. Roosevelt became president in the depths of the Great Depression and launched the nation into the hectic era of the New Deal.

As historians measure time, 25 years is, of course, not very long. But already some of them have dared to struggle through the mountainous record of the Roosevelt period in search of patterns of truth.

These histories and biographies cannot be the definitive ones. Too many parts of the story are still to be unfolded in the private papers of men still living. Yet these preliminary insights make a useful background for what is to come.

The New Deal was really a two-phase affair which lasted about six years, roughly half of Mr. Roosevelt's total tenure in office.

One phase concerned itself with recovery from the depression. It included the famous National Recovery Administration, under which industries adopted codes of performance designed to stimulate fuller economic activity. Unemployment relief, easy credit to business, farmers, homeowners and others, and a broad public works program were other features.

If the volume of unemployed be taken as an index of recovery, then this part of the New Deal was never wholly successful. For in 1939, on the eve of World War II and our defense program, we still had 10 million unemployed, as against a peak of 16 million in the worst of the depression.

The other phase of the New Deal focussed on long-range social legislation—social security, unemployment compensation, protection of citizen's bank deposits, aids to housing, permanent credit and mortgage organizations, and the like.

American businessmen reserved their stiffest opposition for these elements of FDR's program. Yet most of them weathered the assault, and today are largely accepted by both major parties as an enduring part of the nation's economic and social system.

Congress swung sharply toward conservatism after the 1938 election. The barriers proved insurmountable to Mr. Roosevelt. At that point the New Deal as an expanding and developing program came to an abrupt and final halt.

Some say the social changes it produced were long overdue. Some have argued that industry might have kept federal hands off many fields had it alertly assumed burdens Washington took on in that era.

Whatever the fact, the New Deal as a collection of welfare measures lives on. Historians generations from now will decide whether Franklin D. Roosevelt's stature as its architect was or was not greatly lessened by the fact that he could not at the same time construct a full economic recovery.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

French Army Endangers Civilian Gov't

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — When President Eisenhower said last week that the French-Tunisian dispute was difficult, he was being diplomatic. For the CIA and State Department reports sent him from Paris indicate that the French military are seriously out of hand and that France faces its most serious political crisis since the days of Napoleon.

Even if Premier Gaillard ordered the French army to evacuate Tunisia it's doubtful if he could get the generals to obey. The French military is so completely out of hand that foreign diplomats in Paris, including the Russian ambassador, frequently consult not the Premier but General de Gaulle—the only man who seems to have any control over the military.

Eisenhower has received word from his American observers that Premier Gaillard is very much like a man sitting on top of a volcano. If he makes concessions in Tunisia it may be the signal for his generals to revolt and install a right-wing dictatorship. The generals have even proposed an all-out blitz of Tunisia, claiming they could take over the entire country in three days.

Such a blitz, of course, would be the signal for an Arab uprising against the West extending from Morocco to Saudi Arabia, would probably lead to the Nasserizing or even the Sovietizing of all North Africa.

Junkies to Outer Space

Rep. Leo O'Brien, the Albany, N.Y., Democrat, was musing over his unexpected appointment to the new congressional committee on outer space. "I don't know why they chose me," said the new congressional space cadet. "I don't have any constituents on the planet Jupiter."

"I'm going to introduce a resolution that there be no travel by the committee," he joshed. "There wouldn't be any point in junkies anyway. I understand there aren't any State Department counterpart funds on the moon that the committee could spend."

"If there are any junkies, I'm going to suggest that we send the most junior member of the committee. If he gets back all right, maybe I'll go on the second trip."

Insurance Company Windfall

Five million unemployed walking the streets, and cries for bigger government programs to create jobs haven't deterred the big life insurance companies who came before the Senate finance committee last week in search of a $124,000,000 retroactive tax cut.

For nine years out of the past ten, the insurance moguls have come to Congress for special legislation to avoid paying taxes at the regular rate established in 1942. This year a special tax concession, sponsored by Wilbur Mills, Arkansas Democrat, whipped through the House of Representatives like a breeze but was held up in the Senate finance committee by Sen. Clinton Anderson of New Mexico, himself an insurance man.

Subsequent testimony revealed that the Prudential Insurance Company will put away windfall profits of $18.5 million if the special tax bill is again enacted.

Laurence F. Lee, Jr., president of Peninsular Life Insurance of Jacksonville, Fla., a small company, testified that his firm would have a 1957 deficit of $81,900 under the loophole formula and a deficit of $120,000 if it paid taxes under the permanent 1942 law. Sen. George Smathers of Florida asked whether this would put Peninsular Life out of business.

"No, but it would prevent us from employing more people instead of making us cut back," Lee replied.

Sen. Albert Gore of Tennessee pointed out that in an earlier statement Lee described the deficit as a "planned" loss.

"I may be telling trade secrets," replied Lee, "but we've been planning an expansion in Puerto Rico and we spent more than we took in."

"Then your deficit was a result of capital investment in the development of new territory," Gore stated. "In that case you are not surprised at the losses. They are not attributable to taxes under the present law."

Gore recalled that one day earlier he had asked Charles A. Taylor, president of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, whether the 1942 law imposes an unbearable burden of taxation on his company. Taylor's firm is one which planned its 1957 operations on the assumption that taxes would be paid at the regular 1942 rate.

"No, sir. I cannot come here begging for relief," Taylor replied.

Gore noted that Prudential was asking for forgiveness of $18.5 million in taxes owed for 1957, yet the committee had not received any financial statement from Prudential.

Capital Chaff

Congressman Mike Kirwan of Ohio chided Congressman John McCormack of Massachusetts for proclaiming March 4 as Theodore Roosevelt Day and forgetting it was also the twenty-fifth anniversary of another Roosevelt's New Deal. . . . Just before Dave Beck was convicted, he pleaded on the long-distance telephone with Jimmy Hoffa, his former subordinate, to keep him as the American representative on the International Federation of Transport Workers. This would have given Beck an excuse to go abroad. (It now looks as if Beck isn't going any place.) . . .

Walter Reuther of the Auto Workers has urged AFL-CIO President George Meany to declare open war on the Senate rackets committee. Meany protested privately to the committee over the Kohler investigation, claiming it was a labor dispute, not racketeering. But Meany turned down Reuther's advice to attack the committee openly. Reuther now urges a frontal forthright assault on the rackets committee by organized labor.

His Political Itch

Few men who know Harold Stassen have imagined that during his tenure as President Eisenhower's disarmament aide he abandoned all political ambition. His determination to seek the nomination for governor in Pennsylvania simply confirms that.

If he should gain the nod and then go on to win the election, Stassen would be in a rare position, for he would then have held the governorship of two states, Minnesota and Pennsylvania.

It must be noted, however, that the outlook for him in Pennsylvania is not bright. State Republican leaders voice no enthusiasm over his candidacy, even though they need a "name candidate" to recapture the Statehouse from the Democrats.

Here, as in his two unsuccessful bids for the GOP presidential nomination in 1948 and 1952, Stassen encounters resistance.

He started so well. He was a highly effective young governor in Minnesota from 1938 into World War II. He keynoted the 1940 GOP convention. He built an enviable war record in the Navy, and was a useful member of the U.S. delegation to the U.N. charter conference at San Francisco in 1945.

But after he became an avowed presidential bidder in 1947 something happened. He seemed to press, to try too hard to be too many things to too many people.

Judging from the reaction of top Pennsylvania Republicans, to re-enter the political lists in a big way, Harold Stassen has a tremendous job of persuasion ahead of him.

Both Sides Splattered In Summit Debate

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON — It looks like an egg-throwing contest — with old eggs. Both sides are splattered in the high-level American-Soviet discussions on how to hold a summit meeting.

Premier Bulganin has written President Eisenhower four letters since December. Eisenhower has replied with three. Both agree peace is wonderful. Each uses a lot of paper blaming the other side for the mess the world's in.

Others heaved eggs of their own from the sidelines: Secretary of State Dulles, Communist party boss Khrushchev, the State Department, the Soviet Foreign Office.

So, while both sides talk of the summit, both are using the exchanges for propaganda. This may be the diplomats' idea of how to arrange a meeting. To a layman it may seem the best way to have none at all.

Bulganin, sandwiching in topics he'd like a summit meeting to discuss, has: charged the United States with war preparations; taken a crack at Dulles by brushing off the idea that foreign ministers should meet to arrange a summit conference; accused people in this country of calling for a preventive war; blamed this government for not squelching them.

That's just a briefed down version of all he said. He got under Eisenhower's skin. The President, knowing the whole world was reading his correspondence with Bulganin, went to great lengths to defend this country and blast the Soviet Union.

He blamed the "cold war" on communism; accused the Soviets of running out on promises to help unify Germany and let the satellites hold free elections; condemned the Soviet Union for undermining nations with its 82 vetoes in the United Nations.

He needed Bulganin for being too wordy in his letters; blamed the Soviet Union for the arms race and wanting to overthrow other governments; and he told Bulganin one of his letters was just a mild rehash of a "bitter speech" by Khrushchev before a bunch of farmers in Minsk last Jan. 22.

While Bulganin was writing about peace and togetherness, Khrushchev at Minsk belittled this country's efforts to launch a satellite, ridiculed Eisenhower and Dulles, and blustered the "Western imperialists" who wanted to preserve a war atmosphere in order to make money.

In short order, the State Department issued a statement tearing into Khrushchev for spreading a "distorted view of United States policies and motivations."

Meanwhile, the Soviet Foreign Office in a note to this country — called by diplomats an aide memoire — suggested that maybe, after all, the foreign ministers could meet to arrange a summit conference.

But, upon analysis, all the Soviets were suggesting was that the foreign ministers act like a bunch of booking agents without authority to make preparations for a summit meeting that might accomplish something.

That was what the State Department fired back in an aide memoire of its own. What it meant in nondiplomatic language was: Whom are you kidding? What it actually said: Do you want a worthwhile summit meeting or a "spectacle"?

And Dulles at his news conference last week called the Soviet note a "fraud, or a hoax." This is in addition to some extra egg-throwing on the side.

For instance, the Soviet radio blamed the United States for the French bombing of a Tunisian town. The State Department jumped on this as "outrageous."

It seems safe to say after all this that American-Soviet relations are no better and a summit meeting no nearer.

Electronics Take Over

Role Of Pilots Unlike Aces In World War Battles

By Joseph A. Dear

Of Our Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON — Three years ago an Air Force officer told several reporters visiting a big jet base that interceptor pilots soon would do nothing beyond landing their planes after missions.

At the time pilots on the ready line guided the take-off. They also controlled their jets while identification passes were made. But in a shooting war — and this was three years ago — an attack pass would be electronically controlled.

A complex electronic guidance system replaced the pilot as his plane neared a hostile. The system decided the path of attack. The system lowered the rack of rockets. And the system fired all the rockets in a predetermined pattern. After this one pass the pilot took over again and flew home.

Air war is even more elaborate now. The role of the pilot is decreasing in importance. That of electronic systems is increasing. It was very different in World War II. The skill of the individual man counted for more, much more.

And anyone who wants to refresh his memory of how it was then will find "American Aces" by Edward H. Sims a fascinating book.

Ed, who was a fighter pilot himself, traveled thousands of miles to interview 12 surviving aces of World War II. A chapter is devoted to each ace and his most exciting mission. Each mission is illustrated by a three dimensional map.

In the early days of the war the enemy pilots had an edge in experience and equipment. It was otherwise at the end. The stories Ed tells reflect that.

My favorite in this collection of thrillers is the account of Captain Jay Robbins' mission over Huon Gulf of New Guinea. Robbins was flying a Lightning, which had nothing much over Jap Zeros. Yet he scored four kills and brought his plane back.

Incidentally, with 22 confirmed kills, Robbins was one of the ranking aces of the United States in World War II. But I'll bet you never heard of him. In fact, if you recognize two of the 12 names in Ed's book, you'll be beating par. It's strange, but the aces of World War I are more familiar to us than those of the last war.

Maybe Ed's book will help redress the balance. 'nd maybe he will now try his hand at telling the story of our naval aviation in the Pacific War. For no one really has.

To show you what I mean, let's consider the Battle of Midway briefly. This was the decisive battle of the Pacific War, and perhaps the greatest ever won by the United States Navy. It was fought against great odds. The Japanese had many more ships and planes. And their ships and planes were in no way inferior to ours.

But we knew where they were, and they didn't know we knew. Thus at the critical moment, the moment when the Japanese were rearming the flights that had bombed Midway, our dive bombers struck. In a matter of minutes three Japanese carriers were twisted and flaming.

Because of the fortuitous timing of this devastating attack, Midway usually is classed as a victory of "intelligence." That is, our intelligence people had divined Japanese plans and they didn't know it. But victory wasn't as automatic as all that.

Torpedo planes from American carriers made a costly and unsuccessful attack on the Japanese. But there was no communication between the torpedo squadrons and the dive bombers. And the dive bombers couldn't find the Japanese carriers. Dive bombers from Hornet ran low on fuel, jettisoned their bombs, and landed on Midway.

Dive bombers from Enterprise, also low on fuel, would have been justified in doing that, too. But Wade McClusky, air group commander Enterprise, turned north for one more look. At the extreme limit of their range his planes, and those of Yorktown which were following, found the Japanese carriers.

70 Per Cent Of House To Seek Re-election

Despite the low pay for lawmakers in Missouri, at least 70 per cent of Representatives plan to run for re-election.

Asked by the Missouri Press Association if they would run again, 102 of 145 House members had affirmative replies. Twenty-three of those asked were still undecided and 20 say they definitely will not be back.

There are 157 members in the House of Representatives. They draw $1,500 a year plus $10 a day for expenses while in session. The state pays the legislators mileage for one trip each session to and from their homes.

In recent years, the public has turned down two attempts to increase legislative pay. One proposal would have permitted the legislature to decide the salaries lawmakers should have. The other would have provided $3,600 a year for legislators plus weekly mileage allowances.

St. Louis county will be hardest hit since only one of its nine member delegation plans to run again. The others say the sacrifice is too great and they need to devote the time and money to their families and businesses.

Eight of the 20 who do not plan to run again for the House are seeking other offices. One, Rep. Adolphus J. Legan (R-Polk county) is on the waiting list for a job as rural mail carrier.

House members who will not seek re-election include: Rep. Paul Amick (D-Marion county), plans to seek other office; Don Burrell (R-Greene county), running for prosecuting attorney; Paul Canaday (D-Greene county); Robert Copeland (R-St. Louis county); Robert Crawford (D-Vernon county), running for Congress; Richard DeCoster (D-Lewis county), running for the state senate; Morgan Donelson (R-Mercer county); Milford English (R-St. Louis county); Arthur Hayes (R-St. Louis county); Ed Farmer (R-Jasper county); Edward F. Ford (D-St. Louis county); Raymond Hopfinger (D-St. Louis county), running for state senate; James R. Hunsucker (D-Jackson county); A. Clifford Jones (R-St. Louis county), a candidate for St. Louis county supervisor; W. O. Mackie (D-Adair county), running for state senate; Sam Murphy (R-St. Louis county); James Noland (R-Camden county), running for county office; Chaim Zimbalist (D-St. Louis county), and Mrs. Icie Mae Pope (R-Webster county).

Many lawmakers feel their pay will not be increased until the constitution is revised in 1963. There are still some groups trying to push through a legislative pay raise but its hard to believe that any attempt will be successful with state expenses going up and tax revenues declining.

Wage Fight To Senate

The arena for the battle to deny funds for administration of Missouri's controversial prevailing wage law has shifted to the senate. The House of Representatives stuck by its guns last week and defeated two attempts to appropriate funds to operate the prevailing wage law until June 30. In addition, the House pared a $108,200 fund for prevailing wage and I'll bet you never heard of him either. Midway might have been a different battle. McClusky's boys missed just one Jap carrier whose planes mortally wounded Yorktown.

administration for 1958-59 to $28,400.

Rep. Thomas Walsh (D-St. Louis), original sponsor of the prevailing wage law, attempted to restore $32,689 for administration of the law until next June. His move was defeated 49-85 with three present and not voting.

Nearly all the votes for the appropriation came from members from metropolitan areas. Those from outstate who supported the appropriation were: Amick, Marion county; Bachler, McDonald county; Barker, Butler county; Bollinger, Carter county; Burns, Randolph county; Cook, Grundy county; Couch, Platte county; Davidson, Henry county; Degenhardt, Perry county; Garrett, Jefferson county; Hancock, Greene county; Hatridge, St. Francois county; Ichord, Texas county; Jackson, Ralls county; Moore, Ste. Genevieve county; Overstreet, Pettis county; Simpson, Oregon county; Skaggs, Reynolds county; Smith of Jasper county; Stone of Madison county; Twomey, Iron county. Those present but not voting were: Baber of Barton county and Robinson, Knox county.

It will now be up to the senate to either finance the law which has caused trouble since its start or start it up anew with fresh funds. Rep. Charles James (D-Dunklin county), led the House battle against the appropriation. He said the prevailing wage law was "One of the most unpopular, probably the worst law the legislature has ever passed." He said it has stymied every public works since its inception.

James said the law hurts local taxpayers who are trying to build schools and roads by increasing construction costs by one third or one fourth. The law requires that workmen on public projects be paid the prevailing wage of that county as determined by the state industrial commission in Jefferson City.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.

When some people are urged to go to church they cast unpleasant glances at the hypocrites who pray on Sunday and who sin against their brothers on Monday. Some see only the unworthy who fill a few pews of our churches. They overlook the many who silently follow the will of God seven days a week.

One of the mistakes of many serious Christians is the very silence of their worship. They hide their religion from others. They do not seem to be proud of their association with God. They fail to bear witness for the Master who gives life eternal.

Somehow we must make our loyalties known. We must let others know that God is guiding our every deed and that we are in constant touch with Him. There are many who will not read the Bible, but they would read the Gospel According to You. Our lives must reflect God's presence.

Feed Lot Tour Planned For Cattlemen by Farm Bureau

Beef Cattle Growing Will Be Stressed

Will Begin Tour At J. L. Purchase Farm East of Houstonia

Beef cattle men should be interested in the feed lot tour set for this Friday, March 14. It has been planned by the livestock committee of the Farm Bureau and Extension Council and will start at 9:30. The route is pictured elsewhere on the page.

Assisting with it besides the county extension agents will be Gordon Gillespie, head cattle buyer of Producers Commission company of East St. Louis and Jim Reynolds, the Extension Livestock Marketing Specialist from the university.

The tour starts at J. L. Purchase Jr., who lives 2½ miles east of Houstonia. Mr. Purchase has about 20 head of good black cattle that will weigh around 1000 pounds and soon be ready for market.

The next stop is at the George Wilkerson farm just east of Highway 65 where Tom Ream is feeding 75 head of Angus and Herefords. These are young cattle and the first ones probably will not be ready until next month.

The last stop of the morning is at Bruce Claycomb's on Highway 65 about nine miles north of Sedalia. Bruce has about 20 head of heavy white cattle that he has been feeding since the first of December. They will weigh around 1200 and will be ready soon after the tour.

The morning tour will end here at 11:30 and will start again at 1:30 at W. J. (Bill) Lamm's, five miles east of Sedalia on Highway 50. The cattle are not at Bill's home but are in the lot across the railroad from the Bluhm Dairy.

According to latest word Mr. Lamm intended to sell his fat steer calves ahead of the tour but would still have about 40 fat heifer calves to see that day.

John Wagenknecht's farm is a mile north of Highway 50 on the east road out of Smithton. John has quite a bunch of cattle ranging in size from 900 to 1250 pounds. They are mostly blacks and whites that he picked up from his neighbors and are good quality. He put some cheap gains on them with roughage last fall and has a good story to tell.

The last stop is to see some real good Hereford steers at John Bluhm Sr., who lives 1½ miles south of Smithton.

The tour will end there at 3:30. Further information can be obtained at the Extension office.

Ike Portrait Slashed In Texas Club Sunday

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—An oil portrait of President Eisenhower was found slashed in the exclusive Houston Club yesterday and a note found on the picture said "We don't like Ike in Texas."

Henry O. Barbour, club manager, told police he found the picture slashed. Barbour, who valued the painting at more than $1,000, said it had been in the club 10 days and was sent to the State Capitol in Austin. The portrait was by Boris G. Gordon of Washington.

The slash in the 56x36 inch painting extended about 12 inches across the upper part of the President's face.

Fertilize Renovated Pastures

South Missouri, 1957—Renovated permanent pastures are consistently giving best results when top dressed with a complete fertilizer of high analysis. Tests made on 14 such pastures in south Missouri in 1957 gave the following results:

When 90 pounds of actual nitrogen was used the increase in dry forage moved up from 13 1/2 of a ton with no treatment to 2 1/2 tons or a 28 per cent increase. Where a 90-90-90 fertilizer was used the dry forage increased to 3 1/2 tons or a 30 per cent increase over the check and the green forage actually increased 90 per cent.

Northwest Missouri, 1956-57 — Surface treatments were made to eight previously renovated pastures in North Missouri in 1956 and 1957. Yields for the 1956 application moved from slightly under a ton (1806 pounds) with no treatment to (2675 pounds) a 42 per cent increase with the use of 60 per cent of nitrogen and to (2720 pounds) a 50 per cent increase when 60-60-60 was used.

For two years results the check was 2382 pounds. The 60 pounds of nitrogen brought a 47 per cent increase (3493 pounds) and the 60-60-60 a 79 per cent increase to 4266 pounds.

South Central Missouri, 1955-56—Thirteen such pastures were checked in south central Missouri in 1955 and 1956. The check plots here in 1955 yielded close to the first figures given and considerably over those for north Missouri. The check yield was about 13 1/2 tons (3365 pounds). The 60 pounds of nitrogen moved the yield of dry matter to 2 1/2 tons or a 73 per cent increase and the 60-60-60 moved it to 3 1/2 tons for a 96 per cent increase.

Yields were similar but not quite as high for two years with the check making 1 1/2 tons, the 60 pounds of nitrogen raising it to 2 1/2 tons or a 60 per cent increase and the 60-60-60 making it 2 1/2 tons for a 92 per cent increase.

It would appear that the results are consistent and that even though these pastures received a complete treatment, that further complete treatments gave the best results.

Taking the last results as an example the 60 pounds of nitrogen gave an increase of 3/4 of a ton. Figuring that forage at 20 dollars per ton the $7 worth of fertilizer returned about $15. The complete fertilizer would have cost about $17 as straight plant food and increased yields about 1 1/2 tons or $24 worth.

Recommends Gardeners Use Soil Insecticide

Extension entomologists are recommending the use of a soil insecticide in the home garden this year. Use aldrin, dieldrin, or heptachlor at the rate of three pounds per acre. Equal results can be expected from these three chemicals. Aldrin and heptachlor will be most economical to use, but dieldrin will probably be most readily available in small amounts for use on small gardens.

To break this dosage down to a useable basis on small gardens, use a half-cup of 25 per cent aldrin, or neptachlor, emulsifiable concentrate, or one cup of 15 per cent dieldrin emulsifiable concentrate, per 1,000 square feet of garden surface.

Mix one of the above insecticides in two gallons of water, and spray on the garden anytime after it has been plowed, but before it is worked the final time before planting. Spray the entire two gallons of mixture on the 1,000 square feet, and then work into the soil immediately. It can be worked in by disking, or raking, but try to get it thoroughly mixed into the top three or four inches of soil.

These dosages will kill virtually all soil insects, wireworms, white grubs, carrot beetles, etc., that are a problem in the garden. They will not damage any vegetable crop, and there will not be any harmful residue left upon any of the vegetables.

If the above recommendations are followed, it is safe to apply the insecticide, work it into the soil, and then plant the garden immediately.

J & D Women's Team Rally Wins Series Championship

Nips Falstaff By One Point To Claim Title

J & D Grill's bowling team came up with a tremendous late rally, featuring some excellent clutch shooting, to nip the Falstaffs by one pin and claim the Tenth Annual Sedalia Women's Bowling Association Championship at Broadway Lanes Sunday afternoon with a 2701 team series score.

The J & D team, needing a minimum of five marks in the tenth frame of the final game to gain the title, got the requirement as every member either spared or struck. For the victors, Rose Lang paced the attack with a 478 series. Marge Phelps, shooting from the anchor spot, needed at least eight pins on her final ball to gain the crown for J & D and she got the exact count, ending up with a 465 for the three game set. Other series scorers for J & D were Carole Bullard, 396; Donna Early 345; and Ellen May 384.

The Falstaff Streamliners, who had led the field going into the final session, ended up with a 2700 series. Series scores recorded by the Falstaff bowlers were: Lillian Hamlin 461; Kathryn Keller 422; Margaret Buecke 443; Fannie Anderson 472; and Mary Scott 527. Although the Falstaffs shot a 2325 scratch series, as compared to a 2068 for J & D, the difference came in handicap. Falstaff had a 375 pin spot while J & D was given a 633 pin handicap. J & D had high team game of the tournament on its final effort, a 966 with handicap.

Dixie Kitchen claimed third place with a 2696 series, including a 675 pin handicap. Agnes Bohon shot a 451 to lead Dixie Kitchen, while Betty Whitman rolled a 397; Dorothy Thomas, 338; Mary Lou Hattie, 329; and Pat Williams 426. Fourth place went to Show-Me Real Estate with a 2630 series. Edith Rissler was high for Show-Me with a 405 series. Other scores

Could Yanks Be Slipping From Throne?

By ED CORRIGAN
The Associated Press

Could the proud New York Yankees be turning into a bunch of hitless wonders — and not so wonderful at that.

The Yanks wound up their 1957 business by going 11 scoreless innings against the Milwaukee Braves in the final two games of the World Series.

They opened their exhibition season Saturday by being shut out by the St. Louis Cardinals. Yesterday, they finally scored a run, but it wasn't enough, and the Cards won the ball game at St. Petersburg, Fla., 2-1.

Yank Manager Casey Stengel can take a measure of solace in the performance of 19-year-old rookie Daron Johnson.

The Yanks managed only seven hits but two were long doubles by Johnson.

Bonus baby Johnny DeMerit bashed in three runs to lead the Milwaukee Braves to a 4-3 victory over the Detroit Tigers at Bradenton, Fla., 2-1.

In other games, the Cincinnati Redlegs defeated the Chicago White Sox 5-4 at Tampa; the San Francisco Giants whipped the Cleveland Indians 3-1 at Phoenix; the Chicago Cubs licked the Baltimore Orioles 5-4 at Mesa, and the Los Angeles Dodgers edged the Philadelphia Phillies 5-4 at Miami.

The Redlegs blew a three-run lead, but came back to score two runs in the fifth with the aid of a couple of White Sox errors.

Only a two-out home run by Gene Woodling off Marv Grissom saved the Indians from being shut out by the Giants.

Chuck Tanner blasted a grand slam home run for the Cubs in the fourth inning off Chuck Beamon.

The Dodgers had to go 11 innings before Felipe Montemayor singled Charlie Neal home from second.

Soviet Lowers Bars For 1960 Olympics

LAHTI, Finland (AP)—The Russians have lowered their own barriers and agreed to house their 1960 Olympic team with the other competing athletes at Squaw Valley, Calif., it was learned today.

Konstantin Adrianov, president of the Soviet Sports Federation and top Russian Olympic official, agreed to the plan after a conference with Alan Bartholmey, American technical director of the Squaw Valley winter games.

Adrianov, 41, his staff plied Bartholmey with a host of technical questions and after he was told that the Olympic village would be "for all the athletes" the Russian official commented:

"The plans for the village are fine and we like them. Yes, our team will live there."

Adrianov said also they did not mind if other teams are quartered with them in the same building.

It is the first time the Soviets have not insisted on being off by themselves.

posted by the fourth place team were: Cara Taylor 369; Barbara Conn 309; Kay Matthews 393; and Betty Tryon 389.

Mary Ellen McCullen, Lo-Mart Laundry, carded a 536 scratch series and a 213 game to claim top honors in both departments.

Other individuals hitting game scores of 175 or better were: Fannie Anderson 175; Ruth Campbell, 184; Bertha Cairer 181; Anna Mae Welliver 181 and 200; Helen Oswald 177 and 175; Pat Glover, champion of the singles and all-events of 1957, 195; Barbara Doty 179; Lela Norton 191; Marilyn Smith 186; Eileen Hauser 178; Mary Scott 197; Maxine Bangert 179; Carrie Ferguson 180; and Berniece Summers 185.

Series scores of 475 or better were recorded by Rose Lang 478; Ruth Campbell 494; Effie Mosier 474; Anna Mae Welliver 504; Pat Morris 478; Helen Oswald 517; Betty Albertson 476; Lillian Hamlin 485; Lela Norton 501; Mary Scott 527; and Carrie Ferguson 475.

Single and doubles championships will be determined as the Women's City Bowling Tournament winds-up next Saturday and Sunday.

Venturi Facing Two Unexpected Threats Monday

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Sizzling Ken Venturi faced threats from two unexpected contenders today as he entered the second round of the $20,000 Greater New Orleans Open Tournament tied with two golfers seeking their first titles of the winter tour.

Venturi, 26, of San Francisco, who has won three times this winter, knocked four strokes off par with his 34-34-68 over the soggy City Park course yesterday. But he could do no better than the Billy Maxwell, Odessa, Tex., and Gene Littler, Singing Hills, Calif.

Play had been delayed three days by rains. The fairways were dotted with puddles, but the pros found the greens in good shape.

After today's 18 holes, the field will be cut to the low 60 for the final two rounds, both scheduled tomorrow.

In a tie for fourth with first-round 69s were Doug Ford, Mahopac, N.Y.; Bill Casper, Apple Valley, Calif.; and Art Wall Jr., Pocono Manor, Pa.

Murrell's 26.72 average for 25 games put him in fifth place among the nation's leading scorers.

In windup games Saturday, St. Louis defeated Houston 86-76, Cincinnati—with Robertson hitting for 29 points—beat Xavier 88-71. Bradley beat Detroit 88-71 and Oklahoma State defeated Wichita 74-50.

Valley Ends Good Season Play Monday

Missouri Valley Basketball By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Missouri Valley completes one of its more successful basketball seasons tonight. The Bradley Braves, who have accepted an invitation to return to New York to defend their NIT title, play Seattle University in Seattle in the final game on the regular schedule.

The University of Cincinnati Bearcats won the championship their first year in the conference and still have important business, too. They will meet Kansas State, the Big Eight champion, in the opening game of the midwest NCAA regionals at Lawrence Kan. Friday night.

Valley players also have fared well in the major college scoring race. Cincinnati's All-America Oscar Robertson appears to have the race won. His average of 34.54 for 26 games compares with the second place average of 33.94 by Elgin Baylor of Seattle for 23 games.

Phil (Red) Murrell, a Drake senior from Moberly, Mo., rewrote most of the scoring records for Iowa's major colleges. The Drake publicity department says Murrell's 668 points is a one season record for major college players in Iowa. It also reports Murrell's 51 points against Houston is a game scoring record for the state and his 1,657 points for three seasons is a career record for Iowans.

Murrell's 26.72 average for 25 games put him in fifth place among the nation's leading scorers.

In windup games Saturday, St. Louis defeated Houston 86-76, Cincinnati—with Robertson hitting for 29 points—beat Xavier 88-71. Bradley beat Detroit 88-71 and Oklahoma State defeated Wichita 74-50.

Anglers On Four Trout Streams May Set Record Breaking Year

Judging by the number of anglers fishing at Missouri's four trout areas during the first week of the season, another record-breaking trout year may be in the making.

The season opened with a bang on March 1 with about 3,000 fishermen jamming the streams at Bennett Spring, Roaring River, Montauk and Maramac Spring area, which was opened for the first time this year.

As usual Bennett Spring, with 1,117 on opening day, had the largest turnout of fishermen. Two Clinton men, W. M. Scott and H. G. Rhoads, tied for taking the first limit. They had five each within 20 minutes after the opening. Russell Foster, Camden banker, was at the trout season opener at Bennett Spring for the 33rd consecutive year. He's been there every year since 1925.

At Montauk, 765 first day tags were sold, Maramac Spring 602 and Roaring River 510.

BIG FIELD MICE
An anonymous newspaper clipping was recently sent to the Conservation Commission in Jefferson City telling of a new hunting sport in the process of development—but which may die before it catches on.

It seems that two residents of an eastern Missouri county were arrested one night with a loaded .22 caliber rifle and some rabbits in their possession.

The men protested vigorously and one asserted, "I was hunting field mice." However, he was informed that the new Wildlife Code fails to set a season or bag limit on field mice and they both were charged with hunting rabbits after legal shooting hours.

HUNTER'S PERSISTENCE
There's more than one way to skin a cat, and more than one way to get a deer. A hunter in Pennsylvania, according to the Game Commission of the Keystone state, dropped a seven point buck during the 1957 season and when he was dressing out the animal he found an arrowhead and small portion of a shaft lodged in the deer's backbone.

HAZLE CONFIDENT HE CAN HIT BIG LEAGUE PITCHING
BRADENTON, Fla. (AP)—Bob (Hurricane) Hazle, whose bat helped rocket the Milwaukee Braves to the pennant last year, is confident he can still hit big league pitching even if some of his employers complain about him.

"Flash in the pan?" drawled the 27-year-old outfielder today. "I don't think so. Sure, I was lucky last year and you can't expect anybody to hit .400 again. But, I know I can hit up here."

Hazle batted .500-plus for the first couple of weeks after the Braves called him up from their Wichita, Kan., farm team July 28. He finished up with a .403 average for 41 games, but then tailed off to .154 in four World Series games against the Yankees.

"I've got to hit up here," said Hazle. "If I hadn't made the grade last year, I was all set to quit. I feel the same way this spring. I've had my fill of the minors."

Baylor Goes Against Bradley in Score Race
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Seattle's Elgin Baylor goes against Bradley at home tonight in an attempt to overtake Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson in the major college individual scoring race.

It will be the last regular season game for Baylor before the Chieftains enter the NCAA tournament. Robertson has finished regular season play but will also see action in the NCAA event where all scoring counts toward the individual title.

Robertson leads with an average of 34.58 points a game to 33.96 for Baylor.

Comparing the point and shaft with other shafts he had made at home, the hunter became convinced his prize was the same deer he had hit with an arrow during archery season the year before.

WINTERING WATERFOWL
Figures released by the Conservation Commission show that more than 350,000 waterfowl of all species are wintering in Missouri. The survey from which the figures were compiled disclosed more than 338,000 ducks and nearly 32,000 geese are spending the winter in the Show-Me state instead of moving farther south.

Most of the ducks are mallards although all species are represented. Largest concentrations of ducks are in northeast Missouri and the southeast section of the state which was flooded during a good portion of the past waterfowl season. A concentration of about 60,000 ducks was reported in late February on the Missouri River, near Carrollton in Carroll county.

Two dark spots in the relatively bright picture were noted in the survey. Conditions have been unfavorable for the beautifully-colored wood duck and there is now a shortage of water in the nesting grounds of Canada which might effect the waterfowl population next year.

The diminishing number of wood ducks has caused some alarm among wildlife biologists. Much of the decrease is blamed on the cutting of bottomland timber. Wood ducks nest in trees. Because of the decline, Missouri did not have an open season on wood ducks last year.

SQUIRREL PROSPECTS
A near "normal year" of squirrel hunting is in prospect for 1958 on the basis of the food supply for the bushytails, according to Donald M. Christensen, squirrel biologist for the Conservation Commission.

Christensen said, "The mast (acorns, nuts, etc., eaten by squirrels and other animals) crop was considered 'fair', the same as in 1956, but the yield index was lower." During last fall, 12 game biologists and 21 forest technicians gathered data on the mast crop which was compiled and interpreted by Christensen.

He commented, "The lower mast yield in 1957 is apt to result in some localized food shortages for wildlife species dependent on this food."

Stassen Proposes Plan to Include Space Control

WASHINGTON — Harold Stassen has proposed a twofold expansion of the United Nations to include a permanent atomic-armed police force and an international space development agency.

The former disarmament adviser to President Eisenhower broached the suggestions in a speech last night before a conference of the American Assn. of the United Nations.

Tosses Companion In Gravel Pit Sunday

DALLAS — Felipe Hernandez, 8, drowned in a gravel pit yesterday. And today two boys admitted they had tossed him naked over a 6-foot cliff.

Police said the two, aged 10 and 14, told officers the drowning came after a dispute. Officers quoted several other boys as saying the Hernandez lad was first shoved into shallow muddy water and that when he scrambled out he was stripped of clothing and tossed into deeper water.

Police held and questioned several youngsters, all Latin-American. No names, including those of most witnesses, were released.

To Represent State At Blossom Festival

WASHINGTON — Miss Karla Hennings, daughter of Sen. Hennings (D-Mo) will represent Missouri in the National Cherry Blossom Festival here March 25-30.

Miss Hennings was crowned Missouri Cherry Blossom Princess last Saturday by Supreme Court Justice Charles Whittaker of Kansas City. The crowning took place at a dance sponsored by the Missouri Society of Washington.

The Warrensburg Community Concert Association will feature in their final concert Harry John Brown and the Manhattan Concert Orchestra Thursday at 8:15 p.m. at Hendricks Hall, Warrensburg.

Members of the Sedalia Community Concert Association may be admitted by showing their membership card.

It was when Brown was making a guest appearance with the Boston Pops Orchestra in Boston's Symphony Hall that Arthur Fiedler came backstage at the first intermission to engage him as associate conductor for the Boston Pops Tour Orchestra.

When Harry John Brown was 13, he organized a brass band among his playmates, and by the time he was 15 the group had grown into a 65 man (or boy) orchestra. At 16, he won a New York Philharmonic Young Composer's Award for a tone poem entitled "Arizona." At 17, the Eastman School of Music awarded him a composition scholarship.

While in the Army, Brown directed his regiment's (the 66th) choral group, The Gleemen, who performed more than 500 concerts before Allied Troops. Later, his work as director of the famous G.I. Symphony led to guest appearances conducting Nuremberg, Munich and Vienna orchestras.

After the war, he completed his studies at Eastman, won his master of arts degree from the University of Chicago, studied during the summers with Koussevitzky at Tanglewood, and found time during the winter to conduct orchestra and choral concerts in Chicago, direct the Elmhurst College Music School, and become the first musical director of Evansville Mesker Memorial Amphitheatre.

As a composer, Brown's compositions range from musical comedies to the larger symphonic forms. He has also been associated with Helen Traubel as conductor and arranger, and has recently completed the sound track recordings for the Ruth St. Denis Films.

Faces Down Lioness After Severe Mauling

KANSAS CITY — A lion tamer who was mauled by one of his animals last Friday, yesterday returned to his act and faced down the lioness that sent him to the hospital.

Pat Anthony was attacked as he put his charges through their paces at the Police Circus Friday. He was hospitalized with severe lacerations and his left arm bound in a cast.

Yesterday, when the act reached the same point at which Friday's attack occurred, the lioness snarled and lunged at the trainer. Anthony dropped his whip and spun a white barrel at the charging cat. She retreated and resumed her place. The tamer was given an ovation.

"I don't think she'll give me any more trouble," Anthony said. "She's scared to death of that barrel."

First Child Born To Actor John Conte

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. — A 6-pound boy, their first child, was born to actor John Conte and his wife, Ruth, in Doctors Hospital last night.

The baby, John Charles, and his actress mother were reported doing fine.

Conte, the host of "NBC Matinee Theater," a daytime TV drama, said his part in today's show will be televised from a room at the hospital so he can stay with his wife and the new arrival.

Like Mom Used to Bake DENVER (AP)—Tom Sekulich in his time has been a coal miner, a grain farmer and a cement maker.
Now he's the bread baker for the family.

Every Saturday Sekulich, who is 82, rolls enough dough in his kitchen for bread for himself, his wife, his daughter and son-in-law and two granddaughters.

"He's never used a recipe," Mrs.
Sekulich said. "He just remembers how his mother used to bake it."

Women's Democratic Club Sets Meeting

The Eleventh District of the Women's Democratic Club will meet at the Frederick Hotel in Boonville March 21, Mrs. W. C.
Cramer, district president, said
Saturday.

Featured at the meeting will be an election of officers, and a welcoming address by Earl Powell.
There will be a registration at 10 a.m. and a business meeting at 10:30 a.m. After the noon luncheon, Mrs. Sallie Hailey, president of the State Federation of Democratic Women's Clubs will be the speaker.

Reservations may be made by calling Miss Martha Lee Baker at Boonville, TU 2-6201, or writing to her at P.O. Box 335, Boonville.
Reservations must be in by March 19. Miss Baker asks everyone to state preference of meat or fish for the luncheon, when making their reservations.

Smith-Cotton High School Presents 'Dogpatch' Show

Yep—everything's set for a little visit down in Dogpatch on Thursday and Friday, March 13 and 14, at 7:30 p.m. Anybody interested, and who isn't, just shag over to Smith-Cotton High School either of those nights for the annual Variety and Style Show.

All the high class people of Dogpatch are ready and expecting a big crowd 'cause the show theme this year is "Li'l Abner." It was pretty hard to find somebody to take the part of handsome Li'l Abner, but Ken Williams was finally chosen to play the role.

Li'l Abner has a puffed cast to play with him, too. The part of lovely Daisy Mae will be taken by Judie Warren. Moonbeam McSwine, the pretty pigpen siren who wallers in the mud, will be played by Donna Lynn. Marry'n Sam, wearin' his big black hat and always ready to tie the marriage knot, will be played by Ronnie Jones. Mammy Yokum, whose name is Pansy and looks the part—just like a little flower—as she delicately smokes her corncob pipe, will be played by Mary Lou Cook. There will be others, too, all the gorgeous women and the strong fine looking men of Dogpatch.

Along with the variety show will be a style show each night, fashions the people of Dogpatch have-made for the man of means!
